ABSTRACT

The Spark platform from National Geographic Learning offers integrated digital tools that support every stage of teaching and learning. From planning, in-class teaching, review, and assessment, Spark is designed to engage students and save instructors' time. In this session, we will look at Spark's enhanced user experience, improved functionality, and student engagement features. Whether you are a current user of National Geographic Learning materials or new to our products, the goal of this session is to show how Spark enhances the educational experience both in and out of the classroom.
